SUBJECT: A Resolution Certifying a Community Housing Development Organization for the Urbana HOME Consortium for FY2006-2007 (Ecological Construction Laboratory)

Description

Included on the agenda for the June 12, 2006 meeting of the Committee of the Whole is a Resolution to certify Ecological Construction Laboratory (e-co lab) as an Urbana HOME Consortium Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO) for FY2006-2007.

Issues

The issue is whether the Committee of the Whole should forward of the Resolution to the Urbana City Council for approval.

Background

As a participant in the HOME Investment Partnerships Program, the Urbana HOME Consortium is committed to soliciting, fostering, certifying and supporting local organizations that wish to provide affordable housing services as Community Housing Development Organizations (CHDOs). The Consortium provides ongoing support for these organizations in the form of technical assistance, funding, monitoring, and other guidance. In keeping with this commitment, staff has been working with e-co lab to assist them in their pursuit of CHDO status.

In order to become certified as a CHDO, an organization must meet specific criteria established by HUD. The cornerstone of these is that the organization “...has among its purposes the provision of decent housing that is affordable to low-income and moderate-income persons...” (24 CFR 92.2). Other criteria include the organization’s legal status, structure and capacity.

Until recently, e-co lab lacked the documentation indicating that some of the structural and organizational criteria of CHDO status had been met, because it was a relatively new organization. Grants Management has worked with e-co lab staff to ensure that e-co lab’s articles of incorporation and by-laws were modified appropriately to qualify as a CHDO. Additional documents, such as a strategic plan, a community participation plan, and a five-year prospectus, were formulated by e-co lab staff and provided to the City in order to complete the documentation process.

Consequently, e-co lab now meets the HUD-established criteria for a Community Housing Development Organization and is fully compliant with the requirements necessary to grant the organization status as a CHDO.

Options

1. Approve the Resolution as written.
2. Approve the Resolution with amendments.
3. Do not approve the Resolution. In this event, Ecological Construction Laboratory would not be eligible for the CHDO Operating funds allocated in the FY2006-2007 Annual Action Plan. The AAP would need to be amended.

Fiscal Impacts

The designation of e-co lab as a Community Housing Development Organization would allow the organization to apply for Urbana HOME Consortium funding from the two CHDO set-aside sub-funds. The set-aside amount for CHDO Project Funds (or “CHDO Reserve”), and CHDO Operating Funds, are mandated and restricted by HUD regulations. During the approval process for the FY 2006-2007 Annual Action Plan, staff recommended to CDC and City Council that e-co lab be awarded an allocation from the CHDO Operating sub-fund. This was approved by both CDC and City Council, with the provision that e-co lab achieve CHDO status prior to the beginning of the 2006-2007 fiscal year. The approval of this Resolution would have no Fiscal Impact on the City.

Recommendations

At its May 23, 2006 meeting, the Community Development Commission voted unanimously to forward to City Council a recommendation to approve the Resolution certifying Ecological Construction Laboratory as a Community Development Housing Organization. Staff also recommends approval of this Resolution.
