SUBJECT: Annexation of Approximately 31 acres on three tracts located on the south side of Colorado Avenue approximately 395 feet east of Philo Road. Currently owned by John Hingtgen and Virgil Naugle. Commonly referred to as the “Golladay Property”.

Introduction & Background

Staff is requesting the City Council to consider the attached ordinance on Monday, March 15, 2004 to annex three tracts of land totaling approximately 31 acres on the south side of Colorado Avenue approximately 395 feet east of Philo Road. The three undeveloped tracts are currently owned by John Hingtgen and Virgil Naugle. The site is covered by an annexation agreement approved by the City Council on December 1, 2003 under Ordinance No. 2003-12-139. Mr. Hingtgen and Mr. Naugle signed a petition requesting the property now be annexed into the City of Urbana. The proposed effective date of the annexation is March 16, 2004.

Issues and Discussion

The ordinance approving the annexation agreement is attached. The agreement details plans to develop the site with a Senior Retirement Center, 38 residential condominiums and 26 single-family lots. The agreement also outlines the continuation of Colorado Avenue to connect to Stone Creek Boulevard to the east. Upon annexation, Tract I will be rezoned from County R-2, Residential to City B-3, General Business. This three-acre tract is located directly east of the Renner-Wikoff Funeral Home and is intended for the future development of a banquet center to serve the funeral home. Upon annexation Tracts II and III will be directly converted from County R-2 zoning to City R-2, Single-Family Residential zoning. The agreement specifies approval for a Residential Planned Unit Development (PUD) to allow the Senior Retirement Center and the 38 residential condominiums within the R-2 zone.

The agreement also specifies that the details concerning the construction and cost sharing for Colorado are yet to be determined between the City and Developer. At this time staff is meeting with the project engineer to determine the appropriate alignment for the roadway and to calculate the expected cost of construction. Agreement for the construction of Colorado Avenue is expected within the next couple months and development of the site is expected to begin this year.

Recommendation

Staff recommends that the Committee of the Whole forward the attached ordinance to the City Council's regular meeting scheduled on March 15, 2004 and approve the ordinance to annex the property located on the south side of Colorado Avenue approximately 395 feet east of Philo Road into the City of Urbana, Illinois effective March 16, 2004 at 12:00P.M.
