Resolution No. 2008-02-003R

A RESOLUTION CONCERNING THE GEOGRAPHICAL LIMITATIONS OF ANNEXATION AGREEMENTS

(Chatham Illinois Supreme Court Decision)

WHEREAS, development in the urban fringes of the cities, towns and villages of Champaign County is of significant public interest because it impacts the present and future residents in such fringe areas as well as municipalities adjacent to the fringe areas; and

WHEREAS, currently unincorporated land subject to an annexation agreement with a municipality is subject to the jurisdiction and control of the municipality which is a party to the annexation agreement without regard to the proximity of the municipality to such land; and

WHEREAS, the Urbana City Council finds that development on the fringe of the City of Urbana should be regulated in a manner that will positively contribute to the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of the City and wider community; and

WHEREAS the best way to address those issues begins with the adoption by the Illinois legislature of legislation which adds Champaign County to the list of developing Illinois counties with geographic restrictions on annexation agreements; and

WHEREAS, the County Board of Champaign County has requested input from the municipalities in the County concerning annexation agreements and intergovernmental agreements between the County and such municipalities for the purpose of limiting annexation authority.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF URBANA as follows:

Section 1. That the City of Urbana supports legislation limiting the geographic jurisdiction of annexation agreements in the form attached hereto as Attachment 1 and shall make all reasonable efforts towards the passage of such legislation by the Illinois Legislature and shall cooperate with other Champaign County governmental bodies to that effect.

Section 2. That the City Clerk shall forward this Resolution to the Champaign County Board Chair Pius Weibel, and Environment and Land Use Chair Barbara Wysocki, 1776 East Washington Street, Urbana, IL 61801.

SUBJECT: Resolution supporting State legislation providing geographical limits on annexation

agreements

Introduction

The purpose of the attached resolution is to support an amendment to the Illinois Municipal Code which would provide geographical limits on annexation agreements for Champaign County municipalities. This resolution would also be forwarded to the Champaign County Board as the City's official position on the matter. Other Champaign County municipalities are now reviewing or have approved this resolution, including Champaign, Savoy, and St. Joseph.

Discussion

State law does not provide distance limits on annexation agreements. Cities can approve annexation agreements for properties which are contiguous or 20 miles away. Until a recent Illinois Supreme Court case this did not have a significant impact on municipalities because those properties remained under County jurisdiction. Once the property became contiguous through expansion of corporate limits, the property would be annexed and be brought under a city's jurisdiction. This has now changed through Illinois case law.

In a September 2005 decision in the case Village of Chatham v. Sangamon County ("Chatham decision"), the Illinois Supreme Court essentially ruled that properties with an annexation agreement fall under a municipality's jurisdiction rather than the county, even though the property remains unincorporated. This jurisdiction clearly includes zoning, subdivision, and building codes, but the Court left open the possibility for other codes and permits such as nuisance codes, animal control, business licenses, and liquor licenses. The limits are unclear except that municipalities certainly would not receive property taxes from properties with annexation agreements. (See attached State's Attorney opinion from Joel Fletcher, Jan. 11, 2006)

The Chatham court decision should be of concern to municipalities for two primary reasons:

(1) Municipal services outside City limits. Municipalities with annexation agreements are now responsible for providing certain services to properties located (sometimes remotely) beyond their boundaries. On a practical basis, if a neighbor complains about a dilapidated shed or a stray animal on the property, are cities now responsible for providing code enforcement and animal control services? Staff for municipalities and Champaign County have been working cooperatively to answer such questions, but at a minimum, municipalities are now responsible for all development-related issues.

It is important to note that the Chatham decision affects both existing and future annexation agreements. Fortunately, the City of Urbana has only a limited number of annexation agreements for properties outside the City, and most of those are for properties which are either contiguous or nearby. (See attached map.) Urbana is not in the same position as other municipalities which may have annexation agreements for isolated properties a mile or more away from their boundaries.

(2) Possible misuse. The Chatham decision not only places additional responsibilities on municipalities but could potentially be misused. Development of a property turned down by an adjoining municipality can be approved by another municipality, even one located miles away, through an annexation agreement. (See attached Rockford Register Star article) Locally, the issue was raised when Illinois American Water signed an annexation agreement with the City of Champaign for property two miles from the City. This was controversial in that the company proposed to construct a water treatment plant on the property, neighboring property owners opposing it believed that the County's zoning jurisdiction was circumvented by the annexation agreement.

Proposed solution

Ultimately it is hoped that the Illinois legislature will pass legislation to provide a comprehensive solution. Doing so does not appear likely in the foreseeable future. As an interim measure, discussion has taken place about geographically limiting annexation agreements in the county. The Champaign County Board in 2007 proposed a resolution calling for intergovernmental agreements as a solution. The Champaign County Regional Planning Commission and the Champaign County Farm Bureau hosted an informative forum on the issue in October 2007 which was attended by representatives from a number of jurisdictions, including Mayor Prussing.

In response to the County's draft resolution, legal staff from Champaign, Urbana, Savoy, and Rantoul have proposed a legislative solution and drafted an alternative resolution which is the item now under your consideration. Through state legislation, eight counties in the Chicago metropolitan area have already limited the impact of annexation agreements so that properties beyond 1.5 miles can remain under the County's jurisdiction. The larger Champaign County municipalities are seeking to amend the Illinois Municipal Code to include Champaign County among these counties. The Urbana City Council is requested to approve the attached Resolution supporting this legislation, the specific wording for which is provided Attachment 1 of the Resolution.

The Champaign City Council is currently reviewing the attached Resolution of support, and the Champaign County Board is expected to consider approval this month. The Villages of Savoy and St. Joseph have already approved the Resolution.

Meanwhile, the County and its constituent municipalities are operating under the State 's Attorney's 2006 guidelines on the Chatham decision. Even with the proposed interim legislative solution to limit the impacts, however, more cooperative efforts will be needed locally to agree on which city/county laws apply to annexation agreement properties.

Recommendation

City staff recommends that the Committee of the Whole review the attached Resolution and forward it to the City Council for approval.

ordinances, control, and jurisdiction of the annexing municipality. If the property is located more than 1.5 miles from the corporate boundaries of the annexing municipality, that property is subject to the ordinances, control, and jurisdiction of the annexing municipality unless the county board retains jurisdiction by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of its members. Provided, however, application of this Section may be modified by intergovernmental agreement between the County and municipality.

- (d) If the county board retains jurisdiction under subsection
 (c) of this Section, the annexing municipality may file a request for jurisdiction with the county board on a case by case basis. If the county board agrees by the affirmative vote of a majority of its members, then the property covered by the
- annexation agreement shall be subject to the ordinances, control, and jurisdiction of the annexing municipality.
