2014 CITY OF URBANA CREATIVE MIX GRANT FINAL REPORT

Champaign-Urbana Symphony Orchestra

Accomplishments and How Grant Funds Were Utilized

The Champaign-Urbana Symphony Orchestra (CUSO) is pleased to have presented three well-attended Youth Concerts on April 1 and 2, 2014. The programs, entitled It's All About Style, gave approximately 3,250 area students a chance to hear a full symphony orchestra in the Foellinger Great Hall at the Krannert Center in Urbana. Many of these students were introduced for the first time to the depth and power of orchestral music. Students from public, private, and home schools attended. Grant funds from the City of Urbana all directly supported the artists performing these programs: 48 musicians, a conductor, and a narrator.

Impact of Grant Funds on Artistic and Organizational Development

Youth music education and engagement are at the forefront of the CUSO's mission. With the support of partners including the City of Urbana, the CUSO has been able to perform annual Youth Concerts, the cornerstone of its student engagement program, continuously since 1964. The 2014 Youth Concerts were led by new CUSO Music Director & Conductor Stephen Alltop and saw the introduction of a more comprehensively interactive approach to the concerts.

Number of Hours Spent Completing Project

48 musicians each spent approximately 7 hours (three performances, rehearsal, preparation) to complete the project, for a total of about 336 hours. Our Music Director & Conductor spent approximately 20 hours in preparation and execution of the Youth Concerts, and the CUSO staff spent approximately 40 hours (musician contracting, on-site supervision, and Education Guide preparation), and a dozen CUSO Guild volunteer ushers dedicated about 4 hours apiece, for another 48 hours. In total, the CUSO and its constituents spent approximately 450 hours completing the project.

Number of Participants in Events or Activities

48 musicians, 1 conductor, and 1 narrator performed the 2014 Youth Concerts for approximately 3,250 participating students from private, public, and home schools.

Collaborating Partners

The CUSO has enjoyed a longstanding collaboration with the University of Illinois School of Music Office of Outreach and Public Engagement (School of Music) in production and publicity for the Youth Concerts. The administrative support and publicity provided by the School of Music seamlessly contributed to the success of the concerts.

Additional Comments

Based on attendance at the two concerts in 2013, the CUSO and School of Music decided to increase the number of performances in 2014. Holding this additional concert made it possible to increase the number of students while speeding up audience entry and exit.

We received overwhelming positive feedback to the more interactive program this year. Stephen Alltop engaged the students frequently by asking them to determine musical styles (based on information and examples in the Educator's Guide) throughout the concert.
